

CPSI Board Members Named Most Influential Corporate Board Directors by WomenInc. Magazine

January 6, 2020

MOBILE, Ala.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Jan. 6, 2020-- CPSI (NASDAQ: CPSI), a community healthcare solutions company, announced today that CPSI board members, Regina M. Benjamin and Denise W. Warren, have been named to the 2019 WomenInc.'s Most Influential Corporate Board Directors listing in the upcoming winter 2019 edition. WomenInc.'s winter edition features a directory of more than 700 directors serving on the boards of S&P 1000/Mid-Cap publicly held companies. As a leading business magazine reporting on women's success and achievement, the WomenInc.'s Most Influential Corporate Board Directors issue is the most comprehensive listing of women executives, influencers and achievers contributing leadership to corporate boards.

"It is essential that the achievements and success of professional women are showcased in the highest regard, and their stories are told in meaningful ways. WomenInc. is proud to recognize this distinguished group of women serving on public boards," said Catrina Young, executive vice president and chief communications officer of WomenInc. "We are inspired by these accomplished executives, their distinguished careers and the corporations that demonstrate inclusive board composition. We offer congratulations and appreciation to the directors recognized in WomenInc.'s Most Influential Corporate Board Directors edition for their leadership."

Boyd Douglas, president and chief executive officer of CPSI, said, "It is an honor having two of our independent board members recognized for their contributions and professional success in business. Each has shared with us their own unique perspectives, healthcare leadership and experience, which has helped our team to be even more effective in helping community healthcare organizations build healthier communities. Regina M. Benjamin has had a distinguished medical career as a practicing physician, including serving as the United States Surgeon General from 2009 to 2013. She has added valuable insight to our board with her extensive experience in healthcare management and has served as the chairperson of our Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee. Denise W. Warren has over 32 years of experience in operations and finance and currently has executive management responsibilities for a leading 919-bed healthcare system. Her additional board experience and track record working with both public and private equity companies have supported her role as an independent member of our Audit Committee.

"We join the editors of WomenInc. in offering our congratulations to these accomplished board members for receiving this recognition, and we appreciate all that they offer to CPSI's continued efforts in improving the health of the communities we serve, connecting communities for a better patient care experience, and enhancing their financial operations, added Douglas."
