

CPSI Launches Turnkey Telehealth Solution to Help Providers Address the COVID-19 Crisis While Enabling Virtual Connections for Other Patients in Need

March 30, 2020

EHR-Agnostic HIPAA-Compliant Telehealth Solution That Requires No Integration

MOBILE, Ala.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Mar. 30, 2020-- CPSI (NASDAQ: CPSI), a community healthcare solutions company, is launching a new solution, TalkWithYourDoc.com. By leveraging technology developed by its wholly owned subsidiary, Get Real Health®, the solution enables providers of all sizes to continue offering revenue-generating healthcare services while serving patients' needs during the COVID-19 outbreak.

TalkWithYourDoc.com, offered free of charge for the remainder of 2020, is an EHR-agnostic, HIPAA-compliant, secure solution that needs no EHR integration and enables quick provider/patient communication, engagement and data sharing without risk of disease transmission. The robust solution is designed to be user-friendly and operate without dedicated IT resources. A healthcare system, hospital or medical practice can have the solution up and running in hours, not days.

"TalkWithYourDoc.com enables providers to see their patients like they've never seen them before," said Robin Wiener, president of Get Real Health. "This is a secure monitoring tool that can aid a provider in diagnosing a patient. It also connects to patients' medical devices for a 360-degree view of their conditions."

The solution includes separate portals for both patients and their providers:

- TalkWithYourDoc.com, also available as an Apple or Android App, allows the patient to fill out a COVID-19 screening survey, complete an initial questionnaire, and provide information about his or her underlying conditions and device readings (such as blood sugar). The patient portal also provides a suite of tools, including health journals, integration with home health devices, and a list of tasks that the provider would like the patient to complete.
- The provider portal enables the review of a patient's health profile in preparation for the virtual appointment. It also provides alerts and updates to the clinician following the appointment.
- The initial release can collect five key sets of information provided by the patient that can be used to effectively diagnose and treat the patient remotely. The five data sets include: current medications, chronic conditions, notable procedures the patient has undergone, allergies and a symptom tracker.

"TalkWithYourDoc.com not only helps healthcare providers respond faster and more efficiently to today's often-overwhelming COVID-19 workload, but also helps support ongoing health and wellness," said Boyd Douglas, president and chief executive officer of CPSI. "This is about much more than just talking with patients remotely. This innovative solution is keeping healthcare services flowing in a way that truly delivers excellent medical care, while maintaining vital revenue streams healthcare providers need to survive during this difficult time and beyond."
